Becoming a coach means also self discovery

Coaching as part of your professional life

You love to work with people and want to support them in their human growth, as a leader, implicitly or as a coach, explicitly

You love to help but you don't know how to do this in a professional way without over-using your resources.

You could see yourself working as a coach professionally, either besides your current role or part time or fulltime – once you've deepened your coaching experience

Personal growth

To truly help others, you need to help yourself first. Only if you know yourself, you will be able to see what is your share and what is your reaction to your coachee's sharing in your coaching sessions.

On your journey to become a coach you will be coached a lot – being able to ask those questions you always wanted to work on - with the help of some of the best coaches in the industry

You will get to know and love yourself, - condition sine qua non for your successful work as a coach

Your journey to become a coach

Becoming a coach entails much more than learning professional coaching techniques. Of course, it requires the careful study and practice of these techniques. But it also requires you to develop a true coaching mindset – of deep respect for each and every coachee. This non-judgmental attitude opens your inner freedom. Most alumni say that our program has had a transformational effect on them both personally and professionally.

Why us

Our coaching philosophy - True development of the individual

Our coaching approach lifts the situational issue to the personal level. Thereby we drive a true personal development which enables the coachees to not only master the situation they'd like to solve right now, but to also discover themselves and develop tools so that they can efficiently handle new challenges that may arise in the future.

This approach requires a true interest in the person you are coaching and an extended understanding of inner dynamics.
